Lifesaver®
4300 Electric Attitude Indicator

When your panel goes dark or your vacuum system fails, the Lifesaver® powers on – for one full hour. Mid-Continent Instruments is the only company to bring you an electric attitude indicator with a built-in battery backup. With one hour of emergency attitude reference, you have the precious time you need. And its 7,500-hour lifespan is more than double that of most electric gyros – at about two-thirds the cost. Can you live without it? Available from your local avionics retailer.
